We will be using charts of attendees to show how to read an astro-cartography map and how to evaluate relocation techniques, as well as understand the difference between astro-geography and local space charts. We'll also cover the important eclipse visible across North America in August 2017.

SUNDAY focuses on midpoints, midpoint trees, and family dynamics through midpoints. How do we calculate midpoints and which ones are most essential? We'll also look at harmonics and progressed declinations.

The Beginner's Guide to the Financial Universe An Introduction to the Role of the Sun, Moon, and Planets in Financial Markets

$24.95 US

Written in response to demands from clients and astrology students, here is a step-by-step approach to understanding the effect of the solar system and market movements. Investigating the sunspot cycle and moving on through seasonality charts and lunar trading, it presents information in an easy-to-read style. Examples show the link between the movements of each planet on an index or stock price. Attention is given to the twenty-year business cycle—the period between one Jupiter-Saturn conjunction and the next—which has similarities to the Lunar Nodal cycle.

The concluding chapter offers date, time and place data that can be used for further investigation. Illustrated with charts taken from the Optuma software trading platform.
